85-385 Gateway Project schedules detours for Tuesday night

GREENVILLE, S.C. – Drivers should expect three detours tonight near the I-85-385 interchange tonight that are part of the greater 85-385 Gateway Project.

Crews are planning to implement the first detour along I-85 south bound collector/distributor lanes at exit 51. It will send traffic onto I-385 north to take the Roper Mountain Road exit, cross back over I-385 and turn left onto I-385 south. This will put them in a position to go to either 85 south towards Atlanta, get to Woodruff Road or take 385 south.

The second detour will be on I-385 north at exit 36-B. It will take the same detour to Roper Mountain Road. Drivers should expect normal traffic patterns to return Wednesday.

The third detour will be on Woodruff Road heading east onto I-85 northbound. Traffic will be detoured to stay on Woodruff Road until it gets to I-385. There drivers will take the on-ramp to I-385, which in turn will take them to the on-ramp to I-85 north towards Spartanburg. The temporary route will be marked with orange detour signage.

Drivers are asked to observe all signage and traffic control devices.

About the 85-385 Gateway Project:

The 85-385 Gateway Interchange Improvement Project will provide an economic boost to the Upstate, improve safety for the traveling public, and increase the capacity of this Interchange to function more efficiently for many years to come. At $231 million, it is the second largest transportation project in South Carolina History. Learn more at www.85385gateway.com.
